He examined Mr. Leveridge and had him committed to the city hospital for further examination. In the meantime the police officers were searching high and low for the missing Leveridge. Leveridge is the son-in-law of Mr. Henry Pitcher, the manufacturer of sash, doors and blinds at 510 South Seventh street, and is a brother-in-law of date for holding a primary election Mr. Curtis Jennings, of the lumber firm of Berthold & Jennings. He is very prominent among railway employes. For the past seven years he has been emyloyed in the capacity of record clerk, in the auditing department of the M., K. & T road. This department was formerly located at Sedalia, Mo., and Leveridge worked and resided there with his family. About two weeks ago the management of the M., K. & T. decided to transfer the auditing department of the company to St. Louis. Mr. Leveridge was given a furlough of one month in order to bring his family and belongings to St. Louis and secure a home. Mr. Leveridge, together with his wife and four children, came to St. Louis about a week ago and temporarily located at 1554

LAST NIGHT'S MEETING AT THE COURT HOUSE.

Short Talks By Several Citizens Another Meeting Tomorrow Evening.

The meeting at the court house last night was attended by a goodly number of interested citizens, the threatening weather considered, and considerable interest was manifested.

It was a few minutes after 8 o'clock when Col. Van B. Wisker, editor of the Enterprise-Sentinel, called the body to order, after which he was chosen chairman: S. A. Weltmer was named by the chair swindled out of many thousands of quires sixty-eight pages in The Of as secretary.

Col. Van Wisker addressed the meeting briefly.
